

Church Notes – April, 2010

Something to ponder.... The universe is itself the primordial revelation of God. But the path to understanding God as creator comes by way of the distinctive, though not exclusive, revelation of the suffering and redeeming God seen in Jesus and his way. That redemption's scope is all creation is not at issue, then. But the route by which it is known is via the formation of a people whose mission is to display redeemed creation as just community. - Larry L. Rasmussen
